2. Appointment changes made with at least 24 hours' notice will not incur any charges.
3. In cases of emergencies, we may waive charges for missed or rescheduled appointments at our discretion. Changes or rebookings within 24 hours of the scheduled appointment will only be accommodated under exceptional circumstances.

Late or Early Arrivals

1. For in-person treatments: If you arrive early, please wait until your scheduled appointment time before entering the premises. If you arrive late, your practitioner will provide the best possible service within the remaining time, but the session will still end at the originally scheduled time, with no fee adjustments.
2. For distant treatments: If you join early, you will be placed in a Zoom waiting room or video call will not be answered until your scheduled start time. If you join late, I (The Practitioner) will maximize the remaining session time, but the appointment will conclude as planned, with no fee adjustments.

Refusal of Treatment

I reserve the right to refuse or discontinue a treatment at any time. Situations that may warrant this include, but are not limited to:

1. The client is under the influence of alcohol or recreational drugs.
2. Recent surgery where treatment is not advisable.
3. Inappropriate or offensive behavior by the client.
4. The client is unwell, e.g., fever, digestive upset, allergic reaction, seizure, or fainting.
5. Medical contraindications to therapy, which will be addressed during the consultation.
6. Situations requiring prior GP consent for treatment.
7. Circumstances related to COVID-19 restrictions.
8. For clients under 18: Minors are welcome to receive treatment but must be accompanied by a parent or legal guardian. Written consent will be required, and the guardian must remain present throughout the session.

Guarantees

Several complex factors can influence the success of individual therapy. While the majority of clients typically experience benefits, it is important to understand that no guarantees can be made regarding the success or resolution of a condition or its treatment.

If you wish to make a complaint about a registered CNHC practitioner, this must be done through the CNHC website in accordance with their guidelines. Should you encounter an upsetting experience or feel uncomfortable during any treatment, please refer to the aftercare information provided. It's important to note that addressing certain issues may initially make you feel worse; however, this is a natural part of the healing process, and these feelings tend to improve as your therapy progresses.

Your emotions are valid and often tied to your perception of past experiences. Therapy operates within mutually agreed boundaries, and you will receive a copy of these guidelines for your reference to ensure clarity and trust throughout the process.

The aftercare sheet serves as a helpful tool for you to document each session. If you ever feel unable to discuss an issue directly with your practitioner, you can email the form to them. This ensures they are aware of your concerns, allowing for swift resolution and continued progress in your therapy journey.

Remote Working

Remote appointments/distant treatments can be conducted with or without the use of an online platform. If we agree to use an online platform for the session, the following safeguarding measures must be adhered to:

1. Protecting Your Personal Information: Your privacy and security are our priority. Zoom is one of the most reliable platforms and is nearly GDPR-compliant. If you don't already have Zoom installed, you can download it here: <https://zoom.us/download>.
2. Contact Information: Please keep your mobile phone and landline on silent during the session. However, your practitioner will need your mobile number to contact you via text in case of a technical issue.
3. Internet Connection: Ensure your internet connection is stable and fast enough to support the session. This will help maintain a smooth and uninterrupted experience.
4. Limited Wi-Fi Usage: To optimize reception, make sure no other devices or applications are heavily using your Wi-Fi during the session. This includes streaming apps, mobile devices, TV, or other users connected to your network.
5. Wi-Fi and Data Settings: Check that your Wi-Fi signal is strong in the room you'll be using. If necessary, switch to mobile data for a more reliable connection.
6. Session Timing: Set an alarm on your phone to go off at the specified time after your appointment starts. This will ensure you are fully aware and present, even in the event of a technical issue.
7. Visibility: Make sure your practitioner can see you clearly throughout the appointment. Proper visibility is essential for a seamless session.
8. Device Stability: Position your device securely on a stable surface. Avoid holding it in your hand or placing it in an unstable position to prevent interruptions or distractions.

Terms and Conditions:

All Reiki Healing Energy sessions and agreements are governed by the laws of England and Wales. Any disputes (including non-contractual claims) will fall under the exclusive jurisdiction of the English and Welsh courts.
